
T-RAM Company History

- T-RAM TCCT-SRAM Invented at Stanford University January 1997
 - Invention by Farid Nemati (Co-Founder) and Jim Plummer (Dean of Engineering)
- Successful T-RAM TCCT-SRAM (Proof of Concept) at Stanford University January 1998
- T-RAM Incorporated January 2000
 - Exclusive license of T-RAM technology from Stanford University
- Series A Raised $11M August 2000
 - Mayfield, Tallwood Venture Capital, US Venture Partners
- Successful TCCT-SRAM Memory Arrays September 2001
 - Working TCCT-SRAM arrays from 0.35um R&D Fab
- First 0.13u TCCT-SRAM Memory Array January 2002
 - Working TCCT-SRAM arrays from 0.13um Production Fab
- Series B Funding Closed $35M May 2002
 - NEA (lead), Mayfield, Tallwood Venture Capital, US Venture Partners